

The Unified Field Symbol

Lee Field Valstad

PO Box 881, Ruidoso Downs, NM 88346

e-mail: master\_charade@yahoo.com

This paper reveals the symbol that serves to represent the definition of the Unified Field, the basic substance of the universe from which all matter and the fundamental forces of nature are derived. This symbol represents the Universe at its heart as being, as Nikolas of Cusa called it, a "Coincidence of Opposites." This Coincidence of Opposites is also revealed as being the true definition of the ratio or number in math which denotes indivisibility, another word for unity. New experiments and devices are described which utilize the design of this special symbol and which have potential beneficial uses.

1. Introduction

One divided by zero is a number or ratio in math which has long been misunderstood. This has a lot to do with the fact that zero is such a contrarian concept. It is hard for people to imagine that the number one divided by zero means simply one thing that is divided by nothing. Yet that is the main point of this paper, to point out this simple, overlooked definition.

The Unified Field Theory or so-called Theory of Everything holds much promise. It holds the possibility of mankind to understand his place in the Universe and how to best live in harmony with nature. The number one divided by zero gives us the exact idea of indivisibility – the very state in which the Unified Field, which everything is really made out of, exists.

In mathematics it is easy to evaluate the definition of one divided by zero using limits. In this case the answer seems to be equal to both positive and negative infinity, and this would have to be an impossible feat. That is why it is said in mathematics that one divided by zero must be undefined. But I will try to show that one divided by zero does not have to be undefined if everything is possible. If one divided by zero is defined as everything, the unified field, then everything would be possible and this is the Theory of Everything. It is by definition the most incredible possibility that is the most mathematically unique. It is similar to what Max Tegmark called, "the abstract mathematical Universe concept." [1] It means that the Universe is based on a mathematical ratio – the one that denotes indivisibility and perfect harmony.

If the limit of indivisibility is both positive and negative infinity, this means it is a "Coincidence of Opposites." Opposites are two things that are totally different and yet related, like black and white, positive and negative, male and female. Even though these pairs are opposites, each opposite requires and defines its corollary. The interchange and co-dependence of these equal and opposite essences is what shall be known as "balanced reciprocity." It is this idea of balanced reciprocity which allows the Universe to exist and to be as amazing as it is. Everything is based on the "Coincidence of Opposites" and the balanced reciprocity that occurs between them.

Balanced reciprocity is not only the way which the Universe works in physics, it is also the nature of the loving relationship which forms between a man and a woman and it is as much of a Romantic idea as it is a useful paradigm to discover new areas of physics. This makes this the true Theory of Everything as it deals with things physical as well as metaphysical.

2. The Unified Field Symbol

Even though the number one divided by zero is undefined in the mainstream its definition has been found before us. The two equal and opposite essences represented by this presently censored number have been perfectly captured in the ancient eastern mysticism of the yin and yang symbol. The importance of the yin and yang is that even though they are opposite they are also co-dependent and mirrored within each other. What I am trying to show is that this is in essence the same thing represented by the undefined number of mathematics, and forms the basis of everything.

There is another symbol which represents the interconnectedness of duality or Coincidence of Opposites, and that is the one I would like to focus on, as I have applied it to new technology. This symbol is called the vesica piscis [2] or Marriage Symbol for a good reason. It shows how opposites are linked in harmonious fashion. One circle represents the male aspect of reality and the other circle, the female. The two circles are interlocking showing that they share a mutual domain and are contrasting but not exclusive. This is also the most commonly utilized symbol in advertisements, a testament to the power of its influence. It is seen most strikingly in the logos for MasterCard (Figure 1), Kool cigarettes, and Double-Tree Hotels. Sometimes you will find the seeds of understanding in the strangest places. The author suggests this symbol must be a universal archetype of amazing proportions. It is a basic representation of how the past and the future are always merging to become the present, and how sometimes truth is stranger than fiction. This symbol represents the idea that balanced reciprocity allows for all-possibility. This is important not only for technological applications but for guidance in human affairs and the making of a civilized society.

Fig. 1. MasterCard logo

3. Unified Field Generator

By paying close attention to the exact mathematical definition of the Unified Field I have developed a new kind of generator for a special kind of changing magnetic field. This changing magnetic field generator must generate the same vibrating magnetic pattern which is the basic, undifferentiated state of the Unified Field. It is named the Unified Field Generator or the "Wheels of Destiny."

To describe this generator briefly, it is composed of two interlocking circular magnetic arrays whose magnets pass through each other's paths by rotation. The pattern of alignment of the magnets' polarities on one wheel represents the essence of male, and the pattern of alignment on the other wheel represents the essence of female. Together the two wheels create a perfect, harmonious waveform or changing magnetic field pattern.

Since this pattern in theory represents the basic state of being in the Universe, it can affect the fundamental forces of nature in a way which seems to draw energy from somewhere else, via resonance. I suggest that the energy comes or is at least inseparable from the same energy which causes the inexorable expansion of the Universe. Whatever its origins it must be the basic source of energy for the entire Universe.

Let me now say that by operating this generator under an extra parameter that further modifies the output of the device, it is possible to witness spectacular displays of lightning in the sky. To see this actually happen is one of the most incredible things I have ever witnessed. It makes one feel very humble and in awe of the power which man has, for good or evil. The definitive reason why the generator is capable of being connected with such lightning displays remains a mystery. However, it seems that the device is able to modify the very structure of space/time.

4. Conclusion

Fig. 2. A Unified Field sculpture

The Unified Field effects associated with the magnetic generator based on the symbol of the Unified Field seems to confirm the original hypothesis, namely, that this is the correct symbol of the Unified Field and that everything is indeed possible. At least, much more is possible than is currently being taught by our current physics and mathematics, and the reality of free energy or energy that comes from somewhere else has been confirmed at least from where I see it. It is hoped that the true definition of one divided by zero as meaning everything, perfect harmony, or true love will be accepted in the near future. Likewise, more work needs to be done on utilizing free energy effects in order for man to live more harmoniously with nature. It is hoped that the president's eye will be attracted to the new possibilities this holds for our planet and species in dire need. It is a good time to be alive and we stand on the edge of the dawning of a new era of possibilities.

References

- [1] Max Tegmark, source?
- [2] http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Vesica\_piscis